Gracious and eternal God, You are always more ready to search us out than we are to seek You. You are always more ready to hear us than we are to pray, more ready to forgive us than we are to confess. Even so, we turn to You now to ask Your blessing upon all here assembled and, especially, upon these Senators. May they know the fullest measure of Your providence and tranquility as they face the difficult task of special session today and in the days ahead. You have made us creatures of time so that every day is an unknown wilderness and every decision a venture in faith. Grant us, frail children of this day, who are blind to the future, to move toward it with a sure confidence in Your love from which neither principalities, nor powers, nor life, nor even death can separate us. Amen.

On motion of Senator Brooks and by unanimous consent, the reading of the Journal of the proceedings of Thursday, June 25, 1987, was dispensed with and the Journal was approved.
